ABOUT

After finishing my studies in communication and graphic design in France, I went to Spain to study Spanish. Currently I am graphic designer in Barcelona. My curiosity, sensitivity and persistence helped me to find a place in this competitive industry. So far I worked for point of sales: branding, graphics applications, visual management of blogs and socials networks... The last years I specialized myself to editorial design, mainly for fashion and beauty.

I'm always open to learn & discover new techniques and areas to keep growing and improving my professional and personal life.
